DEATH TOLL ON ADAMS ROADS IS ON INCREASE

Twelve persons have been killed in auto accidents on Adams County highways investigated by Pennsylvania State Police from the local substation so far this year.

The recapitulation of activities of the local police barracks for August shows that the four persons fatally injured during that month brings the total of fatalities to 12 for the first eight months of this year.

There were 49 injured in 46 auto accidents during the last month thus bringing the total number hurt by auto accidents so far this year to 190 and the number of accidents to 278. The tabulation does not include the probably equal number of auto accidents investigated by police in the various boroughs and townships and those accidents to which police are not summoned.

HUGE DAMAGE BILL

Damage in the auto accidents so far this year totaled $183,639. By comparison, in the first eight months of 1962 there were 237 auto accidents in which nine persons were killed, 158 injured and damage was $148,042.

The 46 auto accidents in which four were killed, 49 injured and damage totaled $38,030 in August compare to 30 accidents in which 18 were hurt and none killed and $13,650 damage occurred during July. During August a year ago there were 36 accidents in which three persons were killed, 26 injured and damage totaled $20,276.

MONTHLY FIGURES

Month by month totals for accidents investigated by state police from the local substation are: January 32, with 14 hurt, one killed, $19,240 damage; February 38, with 25 hurt, one killed, $21,275 damage; March 31 with 17 hurt, no deaths, $15,415 damage; April 33, with 23 hurt, four killed, $40,785 damage; May 33, with 19 hurt, two killed, $19,940 damage; June 35, with 13 hurt, no deaths, $15,307; July 30, with 18 hurt, no deaths, $13,650 damage; August 46, with 49 hurt, four killed and $38,030 damage.

During August the officers made 188 arrests on motor code charges, investigated 37 criminal complaints and made 30 arrests on criminal charges.

C-P MARCH ON SEPTEMBER 16

Sirens on fire engine houses throughout the county will sound at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening, September 16, to mark the start of the annual "53-Minute March for Cerebral Palsy."

Approval for the plan was given Thursday evening at a meeting of the Adams County Fire Chiefs at Biglerville. The sirens will remind the public that solicitors will be coming to their homes between 6 and 6:30 to seek donations for the campaign.

Mrs. David G. Deitch, 202 Carlisle St., general chairman for the county campaign for cerebral palsy, said it is hoped that $1,200 can be raised by the canvassers in the county. She also noted that because of the distance involved between homes it may be "somewhat after" the 6:53 p.m. hour when the county canvassers complete their work September 17.

The county drive will seek $1,200 and the Gettysburg United Fund will be seeking a similar sum from the residents of the Gettysburg area for the same purpose.

Approximately 90 canvassers have been secured so far. The captains for eight areas were announced today. They are: Mrs. Revere March, Orrtanna; Mrs. John Jacobs, Arendtsville; Mrs. George Allamond, New Oxford; Mrs. Ernest Adam, W. King St.; East Berlin; Mrs. Betty Haugh, Abbottstown; Mrs. Glenn Shriner, Fairfield; Mrs. Glenn Musselman Jr., Cashtown, and Mrs. Antonia Withers, 355 Main St., McSherrystown.

ON FALL SCHEDULE

Beginning Sunday the Prince of Peace Episcopal Church will return to its regular service schedule. The two services will be at 8 and 11 a.m. with Church School registration set for 12 o'clock Sunday.

POLICE HUNT BURGLARS IN THREE THEFTS

Burglars have stolen oats, barley and money over the last several weeks in Adams County, state police reported today.

The officers reported $620 in cash was stolen from the cabin home of Anna Pittman behind her Highway Service Station on the Lincoln Highway, near McKnightstown.

Police said Mrs. Pittman left home at 5 o'clock Thursday evening and returned about 10 o'clock to find the money had been stolen from the cabin. The money had been scheduled to pay employees Friday. Two hundred dollars was in loose form in the cabin, $420 was in a white leather bag in which she had obtained the cash earlier Thursday from the Biglerville Bank.

While searching for the money the officers were also seeking 475 bushels of grain stolen from two York Springs R. 2 farm operators over the last several weeks.

LOSE GRAINS

State police said that on August 16 Roger W. Smith, York Springs R. 2, reported 75 bushels of oats taken from a grain shed across the highway from the Smith home. The burglars had apparently brought their own bags to enter the shed and take the oats.

Last Monday George Ruhlman, who farms for Arthur C. Yohe, Philadelphia, whose farm is also on York Springs R. 2 near the Smith farm, reported that 100 bushels of oats and 300 bushels of barley had been stolen from a trailer in which it had been stored on the Yohe farm.

EXPECT 10,000 TO THROG FAIR FOR LAST DAY; RECORD FRIDAY

An estimated 6,000 persons attended South Mountain Fair for one of the largest Friday night attendances in the history of the local fair. Fair officials predict that 10,000 persons will attend the annual event today and tonight.

W. Clayton Jester, executive director, said that a crowd of approximately 2,000 enthusiastic spectators packed the rodeo arena Friday night to see the two-hour rodeo and wild west show.

In addition, Jester said, several more thousands filled the midway and exhibition buildings throughout the evening. The parking lot was completely filled early in the evening and attendants were directing automobiles to the fringe areas of the fairgrounds for parking.

SHOW AT NOON

The rains and clouds of the afternoon moved out to provide a balmy temperature that dispelled the chilly atmosphere of Thursday evening.

Today's main features begin at 12 o'clock with more than 70 members of the Adams County 4-H Horse and Pony Club in a special demonstration in the arena. The rodeo matinee will begin at 3 o'clock and spectators are urged by fair officials to arrive early to be assured of comfortable seating. The rodeo is acclaimed as one of the finest of its kind in the country. The final performance will be presented at 8 o'clock.

Receipts indicate that this year's attendance will surpass the 1962 fair by several thousand persons, and food and entertainment concessions report one of the largest volumes in recent years.

10 DISTRICTS WILL IGNORE COURT RULING

HARRISBURG (AP) — At least 10 Pennsylvania school districts have taken official action to ignore U.S. Supreme Court and state Justice Department rulings banning required Bible reading in school classrooms.

The Department of Public Instruction said Friday it had made a telephone survey of school districts and found nine whose boards have decided to continue Bible readings.

An additional school board, not previously polled by the DPI, voted Friday to ignore the law also.

ALLESANDRONI RULING

The departmental survey covered only actions by school boards—the ruling bodies of state school districts—and not districts that have indicated they will evade the Bible-reading ban some other way.

The U.S. Supreme Court held that a Pennsylvania law requiring 10 verses of the Bible to be read daily in the public schools was unconstitutional.

Atty. Gen. Walter E. Alessandroni ruled in a supplementary opinion that separate action by school boards, school administrators, teachers or others to organize group Bible readings in public schools would violate the law.

CHAMBERSBURG TOO

Atty. Gen. Walter E. Alessandroni ruled in a supplementary opinion that separate action by school boards, school administrators, teachers or others to organize group Bible readings in public schools would violate the high court decision.

The Chambersburg Joint School District committee ruled Friday that secondary schools in the jointure would open with a daily reading of 10 verses from the Bible and recitation of the Lord's Prayer.

NO PENALTIES PLANNED

The districts covered in the DPI poll were:

Adams—New Oxford Area. Columbia—Millville. Huntingdon—Juniata Valley Joint.

Juniata—Juniata Joint. Northumberland—Zerbe Twp., Warrior Run and Shamokin Districts.

York—Red Lion and South-western.

Alessandroni had said in his opinion that the state did not intend to enforce compliance with the court decision. Individual citizens would have the right to seek legal action in court to stop Bible readings, he said.

There are 2,056 public school districts in the state.

Children Carry Bibles To School

MOUNT EPHRAIM, N.J. (AP) —About 25 public school children were seen carrying their Bibles to school here Friday as a result of a plea by the Rev. Forest Taylor of Mount Ephraim Church.

The minister encouraged the children to carry their Bibles to class as a result of the U.S. Supreme Court ruling banning required Bible reading and recitation of prayers in public schools.

Conrad E. Rahme, administrative principal of Mount Ephraim's two elementary schools said the number (25) was "surprising". School board officials have sanctioned the churchman's suggestion.

Rahme said: "We are not going to stop the children from carrying Bibles."

REGIMENT TO COME HOME

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is expected to bring an armored cavalry regiment—about 3,000 or 4,000 men—back from Europe before the end of the year.

This would cut from four to three the number of tank-equipped armored cavalry regiments in West Germany.

Their mission is to operate as a screen along the Iron Curtain, to contest any invading Soviet force and delay it until the rest of the U.S. 7th Army and Allied units move into position.

During the Berlin crisis buildup nearly two years ago, the United States sent an additional armored cavalry regiment—the 3rd from Ft. Meade, Md.—to Germany. It is not certain whether the 3rd or one of the other regiments will be brought home.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has said repeatedly that the United States does not plan to reduce its combat strength in Europe below a force equivalent to six divisions.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Little Rock, scene of violent integrationist movements six years ago when Negro students sought entrance to all-white schools, is the scene today of reverse integration.

In the past week three white students have enrolled in formerly all-Negro schools — peacefully. Two of the six children of Mr. and Mrs. Carl William Darnell were entered in the John E. Bush School, because, Mrs. Darnell said "we thought that was where they were supposed to go."

300 CHILDREN ARE ARRESTED IN VIET NAM

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Saigon combat police dragged off about 300 rock-throwing, jeering children today as a school rebellion swept the city.

Most of those arrested were under 15 years old.

Helmeted police charged into the Vo Truong Toan Boys School and the adjoining Trung Vuong Girls School, dragging students, many carrying their books, into a fleet of army trucks.

Students screamed from windows at American newsmen: "President Kennedy supports Ngo Dinh Diem beating and arresting students."

NO SERIOUS CASUALTIES

Children staged noisy anti-government demonstrations in at least a half dozen other schools, including the Marie Curie and Jean Jacques Rousseau High Schools attended mainly by the children of high ranking civil servants and government officials.

Schools in Saigon reopened Wednesday. They had been closed since last Saturday, when thousands of children tried to demonstrate and were arrested.

No serious casualties were reported in today's outbreak, although some students suffered twisted ankles, cuts and bruises.

Today In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

MANPOWER TRAINING: The House has received the second of two Senate-passed bills to expand and continue the Manpower Act to train unemployed workers and upgrade the skills of those with jobs.

By a 41-26 vote, the Senate passed President Kennedy's plan to spend $200 million in the next two fiscal years—half to expand the job training program for unemployed youths and half to add new literacy courses, mainly for older workers without jobs.

Approval came Friday after the Senate beat back Republican efforts to cut the cost from $200 million to $60 million.

On Wednesday the Senate passed a bill to let the federal government pay the entire $322 million cost of the manpower program through mid-1965.

JOBLESS DROP: Unemployment fell in August to 3.9 million—the lowest level since last December—and a further drop is expected through October.

Gertrude Bancroft, special assistant to the commissioner of labor statistics, predicted the September total would be 3.5 million and October's 3.4 million before the onset of cold weather causes a new uptick in November.

Miss Bancroft said the 500,000 decline in jobless from July to August was expected. The seasonally adjusted rate for August was 5.5 per cent of the labor force, compared with 5.6 per cent in July. In December 1962, when 3.8 million were unemployed, the rate was also 5.5 per cent.

PRESIDENT'S REPRESENTATIVE: Asst. Secretary of State Roger Hillsman will represent President Kennedy at ceremonies in Malaysia marking the formation of the Malaysia Federation on Sept. 16.

Hillsman will leave next Friday. The Viet Nam situation led him to cancel earlier plans to visit Japan and South Korea on his way to Malaysia.

He is expected to visit officials in both Indonesia and the Philippines after the Malaysian ceremony.

SEATO: Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today the United States "remains firm in its resolve to meet its SEATO obligations." And he reaffirmed cooperation in maintaining peace and security in troubled Southeast Asia.

His statement was made on the ninth anniversary of the signing of the Southeast Asia collective defense treaty in Manila.

Rusk said that for nine years SEATO has "served the cause of peace and progress in the treaty area through the principle of collective security."

"Our combined strength is ample to meet the menace of Communist power threatening the area from the north," he said in an obvious reference to Communist China.

Bride-to-be Gives Pledge On Breakfasts

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP) —Brian Mooney, 19, has a pledge from his bride-to-be: breakfast in bed every day of his life.

Janet Bull, 19, made the promise Friday in winning a magistrate's permission to marry. Brian's father, 61-year-old Robert Mooney, had objected to the marriage.

"My son is petted and pampered by his mother," the elder Mooney explained, adding: "He won't get the same treatment on his honeymoon and the shock may ruin his marriage."

Replied Janet: "I'll look after him just as well as his mother did. I'll give him breakfast in bed every day."

That convinced the magistrate and it seemed to convince Brian's father. He wished the youngsters good luck as they left the court.

SCHOOL BOARD FACES SUIT ON BIBLE ISSUE

A Harrisburg attorney has informed school administrators and directors of the New Cumberland Joint School System that "a group of clients" from the New Cumberland borough and Red Land School Districts will institute legal action against the system if the practice of reading the Bible and reciting the Lord's Prayer is continued at New Cumberland Junior High School.

The New Cumberland Joint Board, which administers the three junior high school grades of the New Cumberland and Red Land Districts, last week voted to retain the traditional opening exercises, despite the United States Supreme Court decision handed down in June as well as State Attorney General Walter E. Alesandroni's directive to the effect that the Supreme Court decision ruled unconstitutional the practice of the Lord's Prayer in public schools.

Reportedly, classes in the junior high school followed the joint school board directive.

COURT SUIT INDICATED

Attorney Gerald H. Goldberg, Harrisburg, revealed he has advised Paul E. Guyer, president of the joint board, as well as David A. Robertson, supervising principal of New Cumberland joint and borough schools, that he has been approached by a number of persons residing in both New Cumberland and Red Land School Districts who object to the board's defiance of the "law of the land."

Attorney Goldberg noted, "We're at a rather delicate stage in this case . . . we want to settle amicably. (But) we won't wait very long. We propose to move rather quickly."

He indicated his clients, all of whom have children attending the junior high school, propose to file suit in Middle District Federal court charging the board is violating the civil rights of those clients, and will ask the court to enjoin the board from doing this. The clients' position in this case, Goldberg explained, is based on the issue of whether a school board may act in defiance of the United States Supreme Court and the Constitution.

Wedding

MRS. ECKERT

Miss Louise E. Keepers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Keepers, Taneytown, became the bride of George K. Eckert, 671 Highland Ave., Hagerstown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow W. Eckert, Waynesboro, at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Taneytown, Saturday morning at 10 o'clock when the Rev. Fr. Joseph Kenney performed the double-ring ceremony and was celebrating at the Nuptial Mass.

The altar was decorated with white mums and pompons. Mrs. Helen Gorman presided at the organ and accompanied the soloist, Mark Sanders.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of lace over tulle, with an elbow-length veil which fell from a crown of seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift from the groom. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and baby's breath.

Her maid of honor, Miss Jane E. Keepers, wore a street-length dress of willow green and carried a bouquet of mixed fall flowers.

George E. Tate, Gettysburg, served as best man and the ushers were Philip G. Tate, Gettysburg, and Leonard J. Keepers, Taneytown.

Following a reception at the home of the bride the couple left on a wedding trip to an unannounced destination. For traveling the bride chose a black linen sheath with matching coat and white accessories. Upon their return they will reside at 671 Highland Ave., Hagerstown.

The bride graduated from St. Joseph's Catholic High School, Emmitsburg, and Mercy Hospital School of Nursing, Baltimore, in this year's class. The groom graduated from Waynesboro Area Senior High School and is employed at Mack Truck, Inc., Hagerstown. Out-of-town guests were present from New Jersey, Baltimore, Frederick, Emmitsburg, McSherrystown, Hanover and Gettysburg.

RESTRICT PICKETS

YORK, Pa. (AP)—Restrictions on picketing at four York stores of Weis Markets, Inc., Sunbury, continued in effect today under a ruling by the York County Court. Judge George W. Atkins issued a preliminary injunction Friday limiting the number of pickets at the stores to six. That was an increase of one picket over the number allowed under a temporary injunction issued earlier following a noisy demonstration a week ago.

NAMED EXECUTOR

Laverne R. Myers has been named executor of the $2,500 estate of the late Calvin Curtis Keefer, New Oxford R. 1, and will receive the remainder of the estate after bequests. ## MISS AMERICA PAGEANT IN FINAL STAGES

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Beauties from Alabama and the District of Columbia held an unprecedented double victory in the talent and swimsuit competition today as the Miss America pageant entered its final stage.

Both Judy Short of Alabama and Rosanne Trueller of the District of Columbia took top honors in the swimsuit and talent competitions which ended Friday night.

Judy, 18, a blonde from Birmingham, played a violin arrangement of "Hora Staccato" on the marimba to capture first honors in the talent division.

Judy, a 5-7½ Birmingham-Southern College freshman whose measurements are 36-22-36½, won the judges' votes in the swimsuit competition Wednesday.

Miss District of Columbia, a 20-year-old Brigham Young University junior with measurements of 35-23½-35, captured swimsuit honors Friday night.

Rosanne who lives in McLean, Va., won the talent competition Thursday night with a jazzy French interpretive dance of "I Love Paris."

10 SEMIFINALISTS

Never in the 37-year history of the pageant had two contestants won both the talent and swimsuit competitions in the preliminary rounds although there have been many times when one girl won both titles.

The last double winner was Nancy Fleming of Michigan, who became Miss America of 1961.

Results of the evening gown competition have been kept secret as have names of the girls who finished second third, fourth and fifth in all the categories.

Points also were awarded for personality and poise during breakfast meetings with the judges.

When all the points are totaled tonight, 10 semifinalists will remain from the 52 contestants representing all the states, the District of Columbia and New York City.

All previous points earned will be discarded and the semifinalists will compete again in the swimsuit, evening gown and talent divisions.

The judges will select five finalists, one of whom will succeed lovely Jacqueline Mayer of Sandusky, Ohio.

About midnight, one of the girls will walk the 100-foot convention hall ramp, to the strains of "There She Goes, Miss America," into a Cinderella world worth a $10,000 scholarship and an estimated $75,000 personal - appearance contract.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

TEN YEARS AGO

Mount St. Mary's College Started in Pigeon Hills: The Pigeon Hills area, one mile south of Abbottstown, is frequently looked upon as the cradle of Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg. In 1794 Joseph Harent purchased some 273 acres of land, called it Harentford and evidently conducted a school, called Friendly Hall. In 1805 Harent joined the Sulpicians and was ordained a priest in 1812. While Harent was laboring as teacher and administrator with the order, the Sulpicians sent a contingent in 1805 to Pigeon Hills, gathered together a dozen boys of the neighborhood who had evidently been pupils of Harent and wished to become priests and began to train them in literature and piety.

In 1807 Fr. John DuBois, who had fled France as a result of the Revolution, purchased ground on which Mt. St. Mary's Seminary was to be built and applied for admittance into the order of St. Sulpice. He offered as an inducement to the religious superiors the newly purchased ground where he hoped to build a church and a small house to be used as a retreat for the infirm of the Order.

DuBois hoped also to build so that he might establish a little seminary such as existed at Pigeon Hills. By February 8, 1809 it was decided to move the students from Pigeon Hills and on Easter the change was effected. Mt. St. Mary's list of students included O'Conway, James O'Connor, Taliaferro O'Connor, James Shorb, James Clements, John Fitzgerald, John Lilly and Jonathan Walker as the students who were first moved from Pigeon Hills to Mt. St. Mary's. On April 29, eight other students arrived. Only one of the boys transferred from Pigeon Hills became a priest, John Shenfelder, who was ordained in 1818. James Shorb of the original group later became the Mt. St. Mary's physician.

After the Pigeon Hill Seminary was transferred to Mt. St. Mary's the students of St. Mary's Sulpician College, Baltimore, used to go to Pigeon Hills in vacation time. In 1803, Charles Carroll of Carrollton, then in his ninety-third year, gave the Sulpicians the land on which St. Charles College was erected. This was opened in 1848, and in 1849 the farm at Pigeon Hills was disposed of.

Franco To Leave Monday For France: Prof. Angel Franco, N. Washington St., will sail Monday for Cherbourg, France, aboard the Queen Elizabeth, enroute to Madrid, Spain, where he will study for his doctorate in Philosophy and Letters at the Universidad Central de Madrid, Spain. He will be in Europe for a year.

Professor Franco has been with the Romance Languages Department at Gettysburg for eight years. On completion of his course, he plans to return to the college to resume his position as teacher of Spanish. While in Europe he will visit France, Italy and Portugal. He is presently visiting his sons in New York City and Long Island before sailing.

Open Gilliland Presbyterian Home Today: The Gilliland Presbyterian Home, set up in line with provisions of the will of Miss Ella Gilliland who died in December, 1950, was opened today with the first two guests to occupy their rooms there this afternoon. With a present capacity of five guests, the home is confining its operation to the first two floors of the three-story dwelling at 220 Baltimore St. The third floor is being rented by the corporation which set up and is operating the home.

First guests are Miss Harriet Krauth and Miss Sara Lott. Senator Donald P. McPherson, who is president of the home corporation, said other applications

Today's Talk

PERSPECTIVE
You have to stand quite a distance away in order to adequately judge a work of art. Events have to be appraised in perspective — long after they have ceased to be. Even the work of the individual has to be measured for its ultimate worth, long after both the work and the man have passed into history.

If we get too near to things we do not appreciate their worth, nor their beauty.

Even our most casual friend, with whom we come in contact day after day, doesn't gain his full stature with us until he is suddenly taken from our midst. He who sees with eyes that take in perspective is the final — and accurate — judge.

It has long been said that time heals all hurts, but that is because time gives perspective to our view and to our intelligence. We see big when away from little things. Maturity enlarges the spiritual eyesight. Viewpoints take upon softer hues and are painted upon larger canvases. Worth looms. The petty things of life are fogged out.

Arguments augment anger, whereas frank discussion does not. Every great problem must be discussed, and solved, from a perspective viewpoint. We must look at all sides and measure each in its relation to the other. There are no final judgments. There can only be opinions — and these are the sole property of the ones who give them. Perspective lights them up, however, and gives to them life and color. We cannot be too careful as to our judgments.

All about us are changes. The world of tomorrow is the one in which we have got to live — and we might as well make up our minds to that and look at each separate problem in its relation to the whole, and try to form as accurate a perspective as possible from what is before us now. This is no time in which to lie down and let ideas trample us under foot!

HOUSES

A house is but the shell,
As is the clay
Where in the soul must dwell.
And day by day
It ages, smiles and weeps
With those it keeps.

'Tis not the chairs and things
Friends call to see,
Love to the spirit clings.
Fair though it be,
Men never swing the gate
Of those they hate.

When never more will be
The table spread,
When its last smile we see,
That house is dead.
Back to its swinging door,
We'll go no more.

The walks grow sad or gay
With those they shield,
The history of the day
Is there revealed.
As there are doors which yearn
For an absent one's return.

Ever the home remains
An outward sign
Of all life's joys and pains,
Through rain and shine.
With us 'twill laugh and sigh,
Grow old and weak, and die.

Protected, 1963, by The George Matthews Adams Service are pending. Dedication and formal opening ceremonies for the institution are being planned for the future, Mr. McPherson said. The dates for those events have not been set.

Work on the renovation of the property is about complete, the board president said, and the matron, Mrs. William Wilson, is on duty. The property and funds for its establishment as a home were willed by Miss Gilliland. The directors, including representatives of the Gettysburg, Lower Marsh Creek and Great Conewago Presbyterian Churches incorporated extensive remodeling operations and redecorating at the home early this year. Mr. McPherson paid tribute to the "tremendous amount of work" done by the Property Committee headed by E. Donald Scott in getting the home ready for use.

Warriors Fall Victim Of Westminster 26-6 Before Large Opening Day Crowd

Coach Don Young's Gettysburg High School football team came up with a lot more hustle, fire and enthusiasm than many fans had expected, but it wasn't enough to handle the hard-driving Westminster High team as the Owls carried off a 26-6 decision Friday evening before 2,200 fans in the initial grid contest of the season for both teams.

Gettysburg was outclassed without a doubt. The fact remains that the defense turned in a fine job as Westminster gained but eight yards more total offense than the Warriors. The Owls scored two touchdowns as the result of a fumble and a blocked punt.

Jim Newman, playing his first game as a quarterback, turned in a fine performance despite his lack of size. He stands 5'3" and is 150 pounds soaking wet and proved that he hasn't lost any of his fine running ability. Larry Johnson and Joe Riley ran well on their end runs and off tackle slants. Ronnie Plank gained 31 yards on nine carries, but the 31 yards played an important part in first downs.

OWLS SCORE EARLY

Westminster took little time in setting the ground work for Earl Hersh's successful debut as new Owl mentor. Al Zepp recovered a Warrior fumble on the Gettysburg 40. Three plays later, plus the help of Gettysburg's lone penalty, the ball was resting on the Warrior 25. Fullback Mike Wright then slanted off left tackle and streaked 25 yards to the corner of the end zone for the score. Ed Bollinger's placement was no good as the scoreboard clock showed only four minutes gone by in the game.

Four and a half minutes later the Owls struck again. Nelson Wansel got a shallow punt away which landed on the Owls' 45. After two unsuccessful plays, quarterback Jeff Myers whipped a 17-yard aerial to Bollinger. Then Dale Freyman followed like a bolt of lightning as he dashed 39 yards off right tackle for the score. This time Bollinger's placement was good. Westminster led 13-0 at the end of the first quarter. Gettysburg advanced to the Owls' 22-yard line in the second quarter before losing the ball on downs. Moments later, through a booming 44-yard punt by Gary Crabbs, Gettysburg was back on its 15. Two plays later, Ron Plank attempted a quick which was blocked and recovered by Al Zepp on the four. Bollinger banged away for three yards and Myers bolted over on the sneak from the one for the score. This time Wright missed on the placement and Westminster led at intermission 19-0.

Before the half ended, Gettysburg made its deepest penetration as it moved to the Owls' four-yard line. Newman went from the 19 to the four on an excellent run. Half the lights went out and the half-time whistle sounded seconds later.

NEWMAN SCORES

Gettysburg tallied its lone TD with only 2:24 minutes elapsed in the second half. Bill Jones recovered a Wright fumble on the Owls' 15. Plank hit the line for no gain and Riley slammed against right guard for one. Jim Newman, running a perfect option, skirted wide around right end and dashed for the corner for the six points. Newman's placement was blocked by Terry Burk.

Westminster tallied its final TD of the game with 45 seconds remaining in the third period. Following a Wansel punt, the Owls moved 39 yards on eight plays capped by Bollinger's seven-yard romp around right end. Bollinger also kicked the point.

Westminster utilized two units throughout most of the game and came in with its third team in the final quarter. Don Young substituted freely in the fourth quarter, but kept his defensive unit in tact. The win marked the eighth straight for the Owls over the Warriors. Gettysburg won the first five games of the 15-game series, but has not won in the last 10 years.

Gettysburg will meet its first Blue Mountain League opponent of the season when it entertains Boiling Springs next Friday night on Kurtz Field.

New Cave-in At Mine Rescue Site

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP) — The search for Louis Bova, all but hopeless now, suffered another setback Friday when a new cave-in occurred in the mine where Bova and two others were trapped by an earlier fall.

With a roar of falling rock, earth and coal, a section of the east side of the mine slope plunged through weakened timbers, creating a subsidence some 35 feet in diameter at the surface.

The collapse confirmed the fears of state officials who had decided not to risk sending any men into the weakened slope after Bova, 54, David Fellin, 58, and Henry Throne, 28, were trapped last Aug. 13.

TAKE 27 MEN FROM TOWERS

QUONSET POINT, R.I. (AP) — The 27 men plucked from two storm-battered Texas towers off New England went back on solid ground today, asking, "What was all the fuss about?"

"It wasn't blowing any harder than usual," said Francis P. Flanagan, the Army Corps of Engineers resident supervisor aboard Tower 3.

"The tower will be there tomorrow and the next day," Flanagan said Friday night when he and other evacuees were interviewed at Quonset Point Naval Air Station.

Later the men dispersed to their homes throughout the Northeast.

Most said they will return to the towers Monday. But there were some dissenters.

The steel structures that tower above the Atlantic once were part of the air defense early warning system. They have been declared obsolete and are being dismantled.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Work on remodeling of United Nations headquarters to accommodate expanded membership will begin early next year, according to an announcement Friday.

The estimated $1,556,000 cost must be approved by the General Assembly which opens Sept. 17.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Margarita Sierra, 26, a spirited singer and dancer who found favor with audiences on three continents, died Friday after a heart operation.

Little League Banquet Sept. 11

The annual banquet for all players in the Gettysburg Little League will be held Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock at the Elks Home, York St.

All players who have not yet turned in their uniforms must do so before the banquet, a league official announced today.

HALL OF FAME ENSHRINES 17 OF TOP STARS

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Some slightly sleepy stars of yesteryear were set for charter member enshrinement today in professional football's new Hall of Fame.

Eleven of 12 surviving members of the honored 17 came to town Friday, along with hundreds of friends and admirers, and this birthplace of the National Football League took on a circus aspect.

There was little chance to rest up for today's three-hour parade and three hours of dedication and installation ceremonies as the nominees for the hall of heroes held court in a hotel lobby.

OPENS MONDAY

The public gets its first look at the grid shrine Monday, after Sunday's exhibition game between the Cleveland Browns and the Pittsburgh Steelers winds up the dedicatory weekend.

Hall-of-famers Jim Thorpe, Pete (Fats) Henry, former league president Joe Carr and Bert Bell, and T. J. (Tim) Mara, founder of the New York Giants, are deceased. George P. Marshall, Washington Redskins owner, is absent because of illness.

Accepting enshrinement in person were George Halas, Red Grange, Ernie Nevers, Cal Hubbard, Dutch Clark, Curly Lambeau, Don Hutson, Mel Hein, Bronko Nagurski, John (Blood) McNally and Sammy Baugh—all of whom played a heavy role in lifting the game to its current status.

BIG TWOSOMES SQUARE OFF IN GOLF'S 'SERIES'

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Arnold Palmer hopes to switch from taking pills to scoring birdies and Jack Nicklaus promises to become serious today when golf's two fabulose twosomes hook up with Julius Boros and Bob Charles in the $75,000 World Series of Golf.

Palmer has been taking pills to ease pain in his right shoulder in preparation for the two-day, 36-hole play in which the winner takes down a whopping $50,000. Palmer said after a practice round Friday that his shoulder bothered him only when he lifted his club to hit his tee shots. Arnie had a three-over-par 73 over the 7,165-yard Firestone Country Club course.

68 FOR CHARLES

Nicklaus, the Masters and PGA champion who captured last year's inaugural series, had a 75 in practice, but said, "I was only fiddling around. A fellow's got to practice sometime."

British open champion Charles, the world series long-shot from New Zealand, shot a 68, bagging three birdies and getting one bogey. Boros, U.S. Open champion, sank a shot out of a sand trap on the 18th green for a 69.

The playoff is a method of bringing together the winners of the world's four major tournaments. When Nicklaus won both the Masters and the PGA, the promoters decided to have a playoff two weeks ago involving Palmer, Jack Cupit and Phil Rodgers to complete the foursome.

Palmer, who has collected a record $101,555 in PGA winnings this year, outdistanced Cupit and Rodgers to qualify for a shot at golf's biggest jackpot.

January Leads Utah Open Field

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Slim Don January, one of the steady veterans of the professional golf tour, held a slim one-stroke lead today with a 35-hole total of 133 in the $40,000 Utah Open Invitational Tournament.

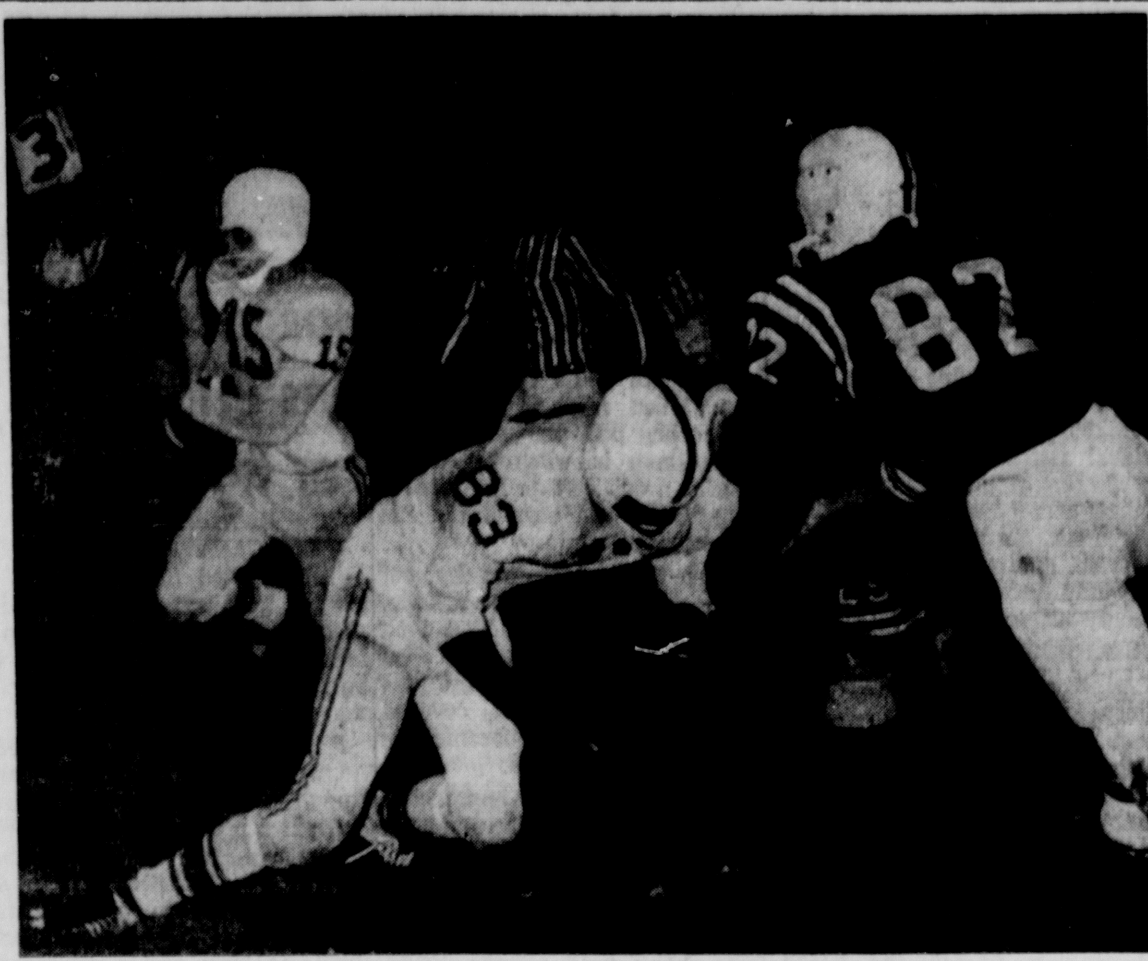

But he was hotly pursued by Billy Maxwell and Gary Player as 74 pros and 10 amateurs played the third round on the Canyon course, which has been swept by rain the past two days.

The field was cut after 36 holes and it took a score of 148 or better to play the final two rounds.

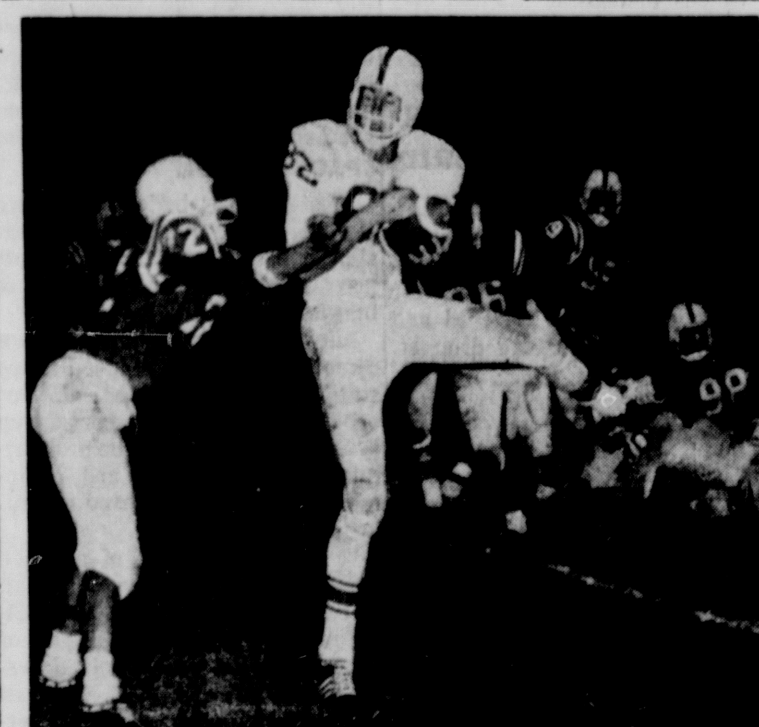

January, Maxwell and Player were tied with 66s after the first 18 holes Thursday. Maxwell, playing in a steady rain that did not quit until early afternoon, posted a 68 Friday just after January and Player teed off.

Player shot a 69 for a two-round total of 135.

Maxwell had a 134 for 36 holes.

Dodgers Beat Giants Again As Cards Slip After Split With Bucks; Phils Are Blanked

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals, trying to overhaul the front-running Los Angeles Dodgers with a late stretch bid, have lost the services of batting leader Dick Groat, their first ball game in nine days and an opportunity to gain ground in the National League pennant race.

Groat, the league's leading hitter with a .329 average and a top candidate for Most Valuable Player honors, was lost for several Nevertheless, the Cardinals went on to win the opener 5-1, extending their winning streak to nine games behind the five-hit pitching of Bob Gibson. Bob Veale stopped the Cardinals in the nightcap 5-0 or six hits for his first major league shutout.

HOMER FOR MAYES

The Cardinals fell 5 games back of the Dodgers, 5-2 winners at San Francisco as Sandy Koufax gained his 22nd victory. Jim Gilliam paced the Los Angeles attack with a homer and two singles scoring four runs.

The game results shared the spotlight with the medical bulletins. Willie Mays made his return from an exhaustion-enforced four-day layoff and responded with a homer and double for the Giants.

Groat was reported to have a contusion of the lower chest wall, and Cincinnati's Frank Robinson may have been lost to the Reds for the remainder of the season with a spike wound on the left arm.

Robinson's biceps was pierced as New York second baseman Ron Hunt slid into second in the sixth inning of the Mets' 5-4 decision over the Reds.

BRAVES IN THIRD

Milwaukee took over third place from San Francisco as Bob Shaw three-hit Philadelphia 5-0 and Chicago's Cubs blanked Houston 3-0 behind Glen Hobbie and Lindy McDaniel.

Gibson brought his record to 16-8 and drove in the two runs with a single in the second inning. Koufax, 22-5, was tagged for nine hits and need not Perranoski's ninth-inning help to subdue the Giants. Frank Howard scored the only run other than those by Gilliam on a homer in the sixth inning Howard and Gilliam each connected against Giants' starter Billy O'Dell, 12-7, with the bases empty.

AFL Opens Grid Season Tonight

Tight races in both divisions are the prospect as the American Football League fires the opening gun for its fourth season tonight.

Two games are on the schedule, Kansas City's defending AFL champion Chiefs against the Broncos at Denver and the Oakland Raiders against the Oilers at Houston.

The first weekend of the season will be completed Sunday with the Buffalo Bills playing the Chargers at San Diego and the rebuilt New York Jets taking on the Patriots at Boston.

TWINS EDGE WHITE SOX AS YANKEES WIN

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Minnesota's Twins are moving on home run muscle.

But they can't gain ground on the New York Yankees, who are content to single an opponent into submission.

The Twins, dueling Chicago for second place in the American League, beat the White Sox 8-7 Friday night with four homers—including a pair in the ninth inning.

YANKS WIN IN 9TH

The Yankees bunched three singles in the ninth for a run that gave them a 2-1 victory over Detroit and pushed their lead to 13½ games—their biggest of the season.

Vic Power and Bob Allison soaked the ninth-inning homers for the Twins, who boosted their season total to 200. Harmon Killebrew and Earl Battey connected earlier.

Hector Lopez, Elston Howard and Joe Pepitone rapped successive singles in the last of the ninth at New York, providing left-hander Whitey Ford with his 21st victory. The Yanks have been involved in seven straight one-run decisions, winning five of them.

At Washington, in the 100,000th major league game the Senators romped 7-2 over Cleveland, which also lost the first big league match 92 years ago.

ORIOLES SWEEP SOX

The Baltimore Orioles swept Boston, winning the opener 6-4 on three-run homers by Jackie Brandt and pitcher Milt Pappas, and taking the second game 4-2 with single runs in their last three times at bat. The Los Angeles Angels edged Kansas City 4-3 when Albie Pearson was hit by a pitch with the bases loaded in the 14th inning.

GETS GRAND SLAM

Southpaw Hank Aguirre held the Yankees to three hits—including Harry Bright's homer in the fifth inning—before the tattoo of singles with one out in the ninth. Dick Mulvihill's homer in the eighth was one of six hits off Ford, 21-7.

Dave Nicholson belted a grand slam homer in a six-run second inning for the White Sox, making it 6-4. After five scoreless innings Battey homered with two on in the eighth for a 7-6 Minnesota lead. Chicago drew even in its half of the inning on a bases-loaded walk to Joe Cunningham, but the homers by Power and Allison in the ninth offset the White Sox' one-run rally in their last at-bat.

KENNEDY CLAN SALUTES CHIEF

By KARL R. BAUMAN
HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) —

The Kennedy clan gathered here today to pay tribute to its chief, Joseph P. Kennedy.

Those on hand included the President and his brothers, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., flew in Friday night from Washington in a driving rain to help their father, the former ambassador to Great Britain, celebrate his 75th birthday.

Also on the White House plane were the President's sister, Eunice; her husband, R. Sargent Shriver, director of the Peace Corps, and brother-in-law, Stephen Smith.

Already on Cape Cod were Smith's wife, Jean, and another Kennedy sister, Patricia, the wife of actor Peter Lawford.

On hand as well were all of the ambassador's grandchildren, including the President's children, Caroline and John Jr.

There was no formal party.

Long Touchdown Drive In Last Period Gives Delone 7-0 Upset Over Hanover

M'KINLEY AND OSUNA TO MEET IN SEMIFINAL

By WILL GRIMSLEY

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — "We Latins have taken over this silly game," Mexico's Rafael Osuna said with a wink. "I think I'll win the tournament."

Osuna and his bristling confidence form the next-to-last obstacle for favored Chuck McKinley of St. Ann, Mo., in the latter's bid to add the U.S. National Tennis championship to his Wimbledon crown.

They meet today in the featured men's semifinal at the West Side Tennis Club with the other match pitting 6-foot-3 Frank Froehling III of Coral Gables, Fla., against another Latin, Ronnie Barnes of Brazil.

ALL FOREIGN AFFAIR

A third South American, Maria Bueno of Brazil, assumed a menacing role in the women's division, which turned into an all-foreign affair with the elimination of second-seeded Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., and Nancy Richey of Dallas.

Miss Bueno, looking like the court-killer of three years ago before she was stricken with hepatitis, plays England's Ann Haydon Jones in one semifinal while Margaret Smith of Australia, the top-seeded favorite, goes against unseeded Deirdre Catt in the other.

The finals are scheduled for Sunday.

McKINLEY RALLIES

Mrs. Jones put out a lethargic Miss Hard, 6-4, 6-3 and Miss Bueno won over out-gunned Miss Richey 6-3, 6-2. Tall, talented Miss Smith, holder of the Australian and Wimbledon titles, and the tiny Miss Catt advanced Thursday.

McKinley fought off one match point and rallied from 0-3 in the final set in achieving a pulsating 6-4, 4-6, 4-6, 8-6, 6-4 triumph over 18-year-old Tom Koch of Brazil.

Osuna, playing in spikes borrowed from McKinley, won over Martin Riessen, U.S. Davis Cup team member from Evanston, Ill., 3-6, 9-7, 6-3, 6-3.

Piper Urges Adjustments In Dairy Farm Feed Program

THOMAS E. PIPER
County Agent

Early adjustments in forage feeding can be of tremendous help to dairymen who are short of forage. A forage shortage exists in several areas of Pennsylvania due to lack of rainfall this season. In addition, effects of last year's drought still are evident in Adams County.

Concen - Thomas E. Piper

Concentrated forage can be purchased more conveniently and economically than forage. It usually pays to stretch your forage supply as far as possible and resort to grain or forage substitutes to take up the slack in nutrient intake.

Many dairymen obtained satisfactory results last year when they limited hay-equivalent intake to 1 to 1.5 lb. per 100 lb. of bodyweight. For example, that's 10 to 15 lb. for a 1,000 lb. cow. Ground grains, by-product ingredients such as pulp feeds, grain mixtures, and manufactured forage substitutes replaced part of the usual forage ration. In many cases 1.3 to 1.5 lb. of average hay-equivalent.

EMERGENCY ANIMALS

If dairymen take proper steps now to conserve and extend their forage supply, they will not have to purchase hay to meet minimum forage needs. Strip grazing or green chopping can increase forage utilization, and make it possible to limit forage intake. Generally 3.5 lb. of green chopped forage are equal to 1 lb. of hay in dry matter content.

Forage supplies often can be bolstered by ensiling corn originally intended for grain. Emergency annuals also may be ensiled, and used for pasture or green-chop.

A method of making adjustments in forage ration and other feeding practices is given in a publication entitled "Emergency Feeding of Dairy Cattle." Copies are available at the county agricultural extension office, at 111 Baltimore St., Gettysburg. Individual assistance on adjustments in feeding programs may be obtained at a moderate cost through the Penn State Forage Testing Service. Information on this service may also be obtained at the county office.

CULL POOR HERD COWS

As most of the 1963 crop of dairy heifers freshen during the next few months, dairymen will have an opportunity to replace some of the inefficient or borderline cows. This culling process is absolutely essential to any kind of herd-improvement program.

It is important that the proper yardsticks be used when deciding which cows to sell and which heifers to keep. Since none of the animals in a herd will combine all the desirable qualities without having some of the undesirable, each decision must be a compromise.

Of course, the most important factor to consider in most herds is milk production — not for a period of a few months or a year, but efficient production year after year. It isn't always the cow that produces a large amount of milk in one year that makes the most money for her owner. This is why some dairymen now evaluate the productive efficiency of their cows on the basis of "production per day of life" as a practical method of comparing or evaluating cows.

To arrive at the figure, use this method: divide the total pounds of milk produced by a cow at any given age by the total number of days she has lived. Make allowances for age differences because the average production per day should increase as the cow gets older. For this reason, some dairymen feel it is advisable to figure the age starting with the second birthday. This makes it possible to compare animals of different ages more fairly.

Use of this method for evaluating cows will tend to deglamorize some cows with one or two exceptionally high records, and it will help to determine which cows in a herd are paying the bills and returning some profit.

ONIONS FOR STORAGE

Onions for winter storage must be properly cured and stored later in the fall before cold weather. Onions grown from sets don't keep well in storage. Onions grown from seed or plants, started in the early spring and planted in the field or garden should keep well if properly matured and dried.

Here are some hints to help you: When most of the stalks fall over, pull the plants and place them in windrows in the sun for a day or two. Don't leave longer than two days if the sun is very warm.

When the tops become dry, cut them off with scissors or a knife, leaving stem about an inch long attached to onions. Place in open mesh bags or in slatted crates and leave in the open, covered so that they do not become unduly wet during rains.

As freezing weather approaches remove bags or containers to storage or if grown in a home garden they may be taken into the home attic, where they will keep until January, February, or even later under good storage conditions. Cover onions stored in the attic during extremely cold weather to prevent freezing.

Onions and garlic are the only vegetables that require cool, dry storage conditions.

MOTHER, CHILD FOUND IN POND

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Police investigated today the deaths of a Lehigh County mother and her six-year-old daughter.

Mrs. May Walton, 38, of Coopersburg, and her daughter, Donna, were found dead Friday in a small pond a half mile from their home.

Police could find no marks on the bodies, which were fully clothed. An autopsy was to be performed here today by Lehigh County Coroner Clayton Werley.

Donna's body was recovered about 6 p.m., some 2½ hours after her mother's body was discovered by children returning home from school.

The woman's husband, Robert, was believed to be returning home from a fishing trip in Canada with a three-year-old son. The Waltons also have two teen-age daughters.

RESIGNS POST

HARRISBURG (AP)—Robert H. Conn, Camp Hill, has resigned from his $9,923-a-year post as chief of community health for the State Health Department to accept a post as director of Health Education and Public Information for the District of Columbia Department of Public Health.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The increased sales and liquor taxes continued to produce considerably less revenue than anticipated, figures released by the governor's office showed Friday.

August revenues from the sales tax, which was increased in June from 4 to 5 per cent, totaled $35.3 million, or 15.3 per cent less than the $41.7 million anticipated.

Space Station Has Priority For Research

By HOWARD BENEDICT
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)

The United States has set a goal of landing astronauts on the moon before 1970. After this momentous achievement, what will be the course of the nation's manned space program?

National Aeronautics and Space Administration planners are studying the engineering, funding and other aspects of possible programs to follow the Apollo lunar landing project. Their main interests are in multimanned space stations orbiting the earth, manned flights to Mars and a permanent moon exploration base.

Eventually, all three programs may be attempted. But the costs are high and the space agency must decide which deserves priority. Because of the years required between the drawing board and the launching pad, decisions are expected within a few months.

SPACE STATION

Most officials believe the space station is the most logical next step because it would contribute greatly to Mars and lunar base missions.

Michael Yarymovych, assistant director of NASA's manned space station office, reported stations orbiting the earth for periods up to five years would help determine how long men and equipment can operate in space weightlessness.

"The main purpose of a space station," Yarymovych said, "would be biomedical research. Before we spend any length of time flying to the planets or establishing moon colonies, we must learn man's capabilities of performing useful missions in space over extended periods."

NEED PHYSICIAN

A physician, Yarymovych said, should be a member of every space station crew to monitor the health and psychological well-being of the astronauts.

From their sky-high research laboratory, the station team could conduct experiments in astronomy, biology, communications, weather, physics, chemistry and radiation. The men could practice spacecraft maintenance, determine the best environmental control systems, study the reaction of possible exotic rocket fuels in space and even launch their own research satellites. Astronauts picked for planetary flights could train aboard the station.

The Defense Department is interested in manned space stations and to avoid duplication, both military and civilian needs probably will be considered when the project is firm. Reconnaissance would be a major military goal.

BURNED YOUTH EARNS PRAISE FOR COURAGE

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—"If only he'd complain," said a nurse. "He never wants anything. He cries in silence. No grown man could ever have Benny's courage."

In a room at Richmond's Medical College of Virginia Hospital, Benny Tyson, 15, lay in silence Thursday. Tears had stained his cheeks.

Moments earlier he had been wheeled into the room after a second major skin-grafting operation to repair damage inflicted when Benny was burned over most of his body July 22.

ARCHERY PRACTICE

It was hot and muggy that July morning, when Benny went into the backyard of his Winchester home for bow and arrow practice. He coveted a Boy Scout badge in archery.

Benny had the day to himself. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Benjamin Tyson Sr., were at work.

About 10 a.m., Benny shot an arrow, but it missed its mark and pierced a gasoline can. Gingerly, he pulled on the arrow, taking care not to damage the steel tip. Somehow the point caused a spark. Fumes in the air but empty can exploded. Benny dropped to the ground, his clothes in flames.

John David Brisco, 14, a Negro who also is a Scout, saw what had happened. He pulled off Benny's shirt, then carried the white youngster to the Tyson home and telephoned Mrs. Tyson.

Emergency treatment was performed at Winchester Memorial Hospital. A doctor said Benny must be sent to the Richmond hospital at once.

"But," said Mrs. Tyson, "he told us there was no hope for him at all."

By 5 p.m., Benny was at the Richmond hospital — 153 miles away. He had lost most of an ear, part of a thumb, and had second and third-degree burns over most of his body. But in a week, the good news came: Benny would live.

Benny, meantime, lies perfectly still. The skin grafts are "taking."

You make a wisecrack and Benny will smile. It hurts too much to talk but when he speaks, he tells you, "I feel fine."

MOSCOW (AP)—Alexander Zasyadko, 53, former deputy premier under Premier Khrushchev and coal minister from 1949 to 1955, died Thursday. Tass said he suffered from high blood pressure and arteriosclerosis.

Miss Pennsylvania Will Visit Donna

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Miss Pennsylvania, Cheryl Lynne Kegley, says the first thing she'll do when the Miss America contest is over, is visit the girl whose illness brought her the state title.

Cheryl, first runner-up in the state pageant, was named to replace the original Miss Pennsylvania, Donna Loar of Lancaster.

The new Miss Pennsylvania, costumed in red, danced a ballet in the talent competition Friday night before more than 7,000 spectators and the 11 contest judges.

Cheryl, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lee Kegley, plans to enter Grove City College, to major in math and physics.

Union Defies School Strike Court Orders

NEW YORK (AP)—The governing body of the AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers has voted to strike the New York City public school system on opening day Monday in defiance of a State Supreme Court order.

"If necessary, we'll conduct the strike from jail," said Charles Cogen, president of the union.

Max J. Rubin, president of the Board of Education, said the schools will open for the more than a million pupils Monday—no matter what the union does.

The union's Delegate Assembly voted at a tumultuous meeting Thursday night to strike. The assembly rejected the board's final contract offer by an announced vote of 1,500 to 17.

RESTRICTS UNION

The court order, requested by the Board of Education, was signed Thursday by Justice George Postel. It prohibits the union from advising its members to pursue a "no contract, no work" policy. It also forbids picketing or other interference with normal school operations.

Officials of the union were directed to show cause in court Monday why an injunction against a strike should not be issued.

SEWARD GETS DOWN TO WORK

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's choice as chairman of the arbitration panel which will rule in the railroad labor dispute is losing no time in getting to work.

Ralph T. Seward, a long-time professional arbitrator who lives here, was named only Thursday to head the seven-member panel. He told a newsman he planned on meeting with Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz Friday to make preparations for calling a meeting of the full group.

Under the course charted by a bill enacted last week to avert a nationwide railroad strike on Aug. 29, the arbitration panel is to work out a solution dealing with the crackling issues of 32,000 freight and yard firemen's jobs and makeup of train crews.

Kennedy appointed Seward and two university faculty members, all with broad experience in arbitration of labor disputes, to round out the board.

Congress provided for appointment of two panel members each by management and the unions and for selection by the President of the three remaining members if the labor-management members could not come to agreement on them. It took the two union members and two management members only two days to announce they had agreed to disagree.

To serve with Seward as public members, Kennedy named James J. Healy, a professor of industrial relations at Harvard's Graduate School of Business, and Benjamin Aaron, director of the Institute of Industrial Relations at the University of California at Los Angeles.

WASHINGTON (AP)—D. Brainard Holmes, former boss of the U.S. man-on-the-moon program, has received the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's medal for outstanding leadership. The medal was presented to Holmes by James E. Webb, NASA administrator. Holmes now is an executive of Raytheon Co., Boston.

State To Close Old Museum October 1; Penn Memorial Drags To Completion In '65

(Editor's note: Rising on the Harrisburg skyline is a round concrete memorial to William Penn that will house treasured books, papers and exhibits in a new, modern museum. The inadequate old museum will close its doors Oct. 1 far in advance of the opening date of the new showpiece. Here is the background on the ambitious new undertaking).

By FRED WALTERS
HARRISBURG (AP)—The state museum doors are scheduled to close to the public Oct. 1.

The leaky old building, familiar to thousands of visitors over more than half a century, will become a workshop and storage space as the staff of the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission prepares to move into a $9.2 million museum-in-the-round now under construction just north of the main Capitol.

But it will be at least a year, and more likely closer to two years, before the new William Penn Memorial Museum is opened to the public.

Considering the fact that it has taken some two centuries for a significant memorial to the state's founder to be erected in the capital city, two more years may not be exceptional.

The commission staff explains, however, that it needs the time free from diversion and the space in the present museum for the tremendous undertaking of moving into new quarters.

QUADRUPLE SPACE

The new museum project, which also includes a 20-story tower to house the state's historical documents, will provide four times the space now available for the state museum.

The William Penn Museum, a circular, five-story structure of concrete and Indiana limestone, was begun under construction since Jan. 23, 1962.

The shell of the museum is practically complete, but the interior finishing remains before the scheduled completion date of July 1, 1964.

The General State Authority, which is financing the project, then will turn it over as rental property to the commission.

Except for some display cases to house a projected "Hall of Mammals," the commission has the job of planning, designing, constructing and installing the exhibits to fill the 100,000 square feet of space in the new building.

OPENING DELAY

Dr. S. K. Stevens, executive director of the commission, estimates it will take several months from the date of occupancy to the public opening.

Spring or mid-summer of 1965 is being discussed as the target date, although there may be some pressure to open portions of the museum as exhibit halls are finished.

Win Shaughnessy, 27-year-old Illinoisan recently named curator, said the emphasis will be on the word "state" in planning the new state museum.

There will be no gimmicked displays such as are popular in the new style of amusement park. On the other hand, the commission expects to incorporate the best in contemporary museum ideas.

"We're extremely anxious to have a thoroughly modern museum," Stevens said. "This won't be old-fashioned. A good, modern museum needn't be stuffy."

EXPAND EXHIBIT

The commission plans basically to expand its present exhibit sections.

Innovations will be evident in the themes evident in the overall layout. A planetarium will be added, and also a 400-seat auditorium.

School children arriving by bus to tour the museum will arrive at the ground floor at an entrance inside the shell of the building.

CIRCULAR DESIGN

The circular design of the building is, itself, believed unique among historical museums (although there is an art museum in New York City built in the round).

The centerpiece of the museum will be a three-story memorial hall featuring an 18-foot statue of William Penn. The upper two stories of the background wall will feature a huge mural. Near the foot of the statue there will be original documents dealing with the founding of the Commonwealth on permanent exhibit.

In general outline, the museum will include sections of folk arts and crafts, military history, the history of transportation, natural history, including the "hall of Mammals," and technological contributions of Pennsylvania to the progress of mankind.

STATE'S GROWTH

They will depict the ethnological, geological and scientific growth of the state from ancient times to the present.

Except for the existing material in the present museum or stored in a warehouse in suburban Pennsylvania, much of the exhibit material remains to be acquired.

In addition to its role as repository of Pennsylvania history, the new museum also is intended to

BIBLE READING CONTINUES IN MANY SCHOOLS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Public school pupils in thousands of classrooms began the first days of school this year with Bible reading or a prayer, despite the U.S. Supreme Court ban against required religious devotions.

Open defiance was rare. But a spot check across the nation indicated that religious devotions have continued in many schools.

In many cases, most of whom apparently continued their own or their school's practice, whether prayer, Bible reading, silent meditation, inspirational reading or no devotions.

STATE COMPLIES

Some teachers, particularly those in states that had prescribed devotions, apparently dropped the practice. This appeared to be the case in parts of Pennsylvania. Its law requiring Bible reading was struck down by the high court.

Public schools in Florida, Tennessee, South Carolina and Arkansas were reported continuing traditional prayer or Bible reading in the absence of any orders from state school officials.

In New England, silent meditation replaced devotions in most classrooms. But in North Brookfield (Mass.) High School, the first day began with recitation of the 100th Psalm and the Lord's Prayer at an assembly. Any pupil or teacher had permission to leave the hall. None did. School officials said they would continue the devotion until challenged, when they would review their position.

READ FIVE VERSES

In Hawthorne, N.J., the Lord's Prayer and five verses of the Old Testament were recited. The school's lawyer said pupils not wishing to participate could remain silent or leave the room. Teachers who objected could ask that another conduct the devotions.

School officials in Atlanta and a district in San Antonio, Tex., said that since devotions had been voluntary in the past, they would continue on that basis.

WALLACE DEFIES RULE

One case of open defiance was in Alabama, where Gov. George C. Wallace has said: "We don't care what the Supreme Court says." Daily Bible readings, without comment, will continue as required by state law, Wallace said. The court's ruling had little effect.

play an integral role in the state's public education system. Beyond the usual visitations of the school children, it is expected educational television programs will emanate from the museum.

And the auditorium will be in use for concerts, lectures, little theatre and other cultural activities.

"Price Is Right" Moves To ABC Monday After Seven Years With NBC Network

"Never imagined I could draw such a crowd of men," quipped "Price Is Right" emcee Bill Cullen as he and models Toni Wallace (1) and June Ferguson got the show packed up for its move to the ABC network.

By RUTH E. THOMPSON

Taking along its two most valuable assets — emcee Bill Cullen and a format that's given away a total of some $10,000,000 worth of merchandise by now—New York's No. 1 tourist attraction, "The Price Is Right," is picking up its boats, barbecues, Rolls Royce, etc., and moving from NBC (its home for seven years) to ABC with a September 9 starting date for the Monday-through-Friday daytime version (11 to 11:30 a.m.) and Wednesday, September 18 (8:30 to 9 p.m.) for the weekly nighttime edition. "Never dreamed I'd draw such a crowd of men," kidded Bill with a straight face as he came into the "old" theater after having his picture taken with a moving van and two beautiful scantily-clad girls.

I wanted to find out what "moving" a major show entails and who better to ask than Cullen. But the interview came high because now that we've met, I'm forever ineligible to go on the show and bid like crazy for some of those goodies.

STICK TO RULES

And are these Goodson-Todman people starchy about rules? Well, are they ever! While I was waiting for Bill to get away from the moving van I wandered into the theater where a smiling but adamant guard barred the stage entrance. Bill Cullen I could see . . . but the preliminaries with contestants? Never.

"Cheer up," said Bill when he settled down finally in his dressing room. "I'm barred, too, and I wouldn't have it any other way. What's more, in addition to the security considerations there's another advantage as far as I'm concerned. Things are bound to be more spontaneous if the contestants and I don't meet until we're just ready to go on. I don't even want to know the value of a prize until the bidding is over . . . just in case, say by facial expression, I might accidentally give a clue."

"These are things that won't change at ABC. Same amount of security, same general procedure."

LARGER DRESSING ROOM

Then he brightened up even as you and I moving into a new house: The dressing room will be larger (a good idea, people were just milling in and out for a word with him, at one point I counted six in a room where three was about the quota). He seemed to have a cheerful word for each comer and goer without distracting himself from the conversation at hand.

"The new theater is going to be good (the Ritz in the midtown theater district is being remade for "Price" and the new wetting is intriguing," Bill, who calls himself a former automobile buff, explained that the new automated stage was designed by the leading manufacturer of driverless cars for industrial uses. "You can bet I'm going to be real careful about it, though, why the first day we had the old turntable I nearly got dragged, and with my leg it could have been not so good. Well I jumped off just in time."

Bill says there are two questions viewers meeting him for the first time ask. The first is "How do I get on the program?" His answer: "I'm the worst person to ask because if I remember meeting you, I have to veto you at air time even though you've been picked legitimately enough from the audience, the only way contestants ever are picked."

POLIO VICTIM

The second most asked question is, "How did you hurt your leg?" He didn't hurt it; polio did when he was 13 months old . . . and he has no complexes about discussing it. "Heck," he says, "it happened so early that I took it for granted. Why I was 10 years old before I realized the world wasn't a little lopsided."

Interestingly his typically blithe attitude often turns his questioners belligerent. How dare he, some of them accuse, kid about so serious a matter . . . missing entirely the point of course that he's not minimizing anybody else's disability, merely laughing off his own. "I can see how it comes as a surprise," he explains. "After all, a camera either precedes me or follows me . . . the limp isn't evident on screen."

Obviously it doesn't slow him down a whit. For several years he was a weekly commuter between Los Angeles and New York where he originated a show from

Price Is Right

each coast ("never missed one either"). Would he consider himself, say, the busiest man on the air? "Heck, no. I probably work less than anybody else." That from a man who does six "Price Is Right" segments a week and one "I've Got A Secret?" It's not that he works less, but he analyzed it for me. In "Price" he's got a show where they won't let him backstage until pretty close to show time and at "Secret" well, "they don't even want us near the building until about five minutes before." What they do want is what Bill Cullen has in unique measure: Instant humor, discretion, brains.

FORMER DJ

He did give up a four-hour deejay program in New York because it started at 6 a.m. and it meant, "getting to bed so early I couldn't see my friends." Not that he's a night owl "don't know when I was in a night club last and I don't go to first nights. Ann does get me to the movies some, though." His beautiful wife, who's the sister of Jack Narz, gave up her modelling carer after marriage. "We spend lots of time just watching TV, too. Baseball? With me from Pittsburgh are you kidding?"

Why is he an ex-automobile buff? Because he lives in the heart of Manhattan overlooking Central Park and you often have to drive further looking for a parking space then taxiing to destination in the first place. His "1956 black Thunderbird with absolutely nothing extra" has only 14,000 miles on the speedometer.

With the show moving into an even bigger phase it looks as it the car is going to have an even more restful time of it. "And speaking of cars . . . will the show continue to give them away?"

"Oh yes," grinned Bill, "I'm sure we'll continue to give away almost anything that can be moved into the theater . . . and I'm sure the show will continue to cost me money, just the way it always has."

Cost him money? How come? "Well, I keep seeing things I want all the way from planters for the terrace to our current TV set. Only for me there are no gifts. I have to go out and buy what I want."

SERIES SET FOR FALL REPEAT

Though re-runs stop running in September, NBC is scheduling a series of repeats for October debut. Under the generic title of "NBC New Encore" it will re-show nine programs which garnered many major awards the first time around.

First in the series will be "The Tunnel" described as now the most honored single television program of the past season. A 90-minute documentary of an underground escape from East Berlin, "The Tunnel" won the "Program of the Year," Emmy Award.

Among the offerings to be seen again are: "Vincent Van Cogh: A Self-portrait," and "A Tour of the White House." The latter, with Mrs. John F. Kennedy as guide, has been seen previously on all three networks.

School starts September 23 for "Sunrise Semester" students. As in the past there are two ways of doing it. Students not interested in credits can, for $5 per course, get a study-guide to help them follow the lectures. This also entitles them to take a final examination at home which will be graded.

Those wishing credit for any of these courses presented over CBS must show proof of meeting college requirements before they can be registered. The fee is $135

UNPRECEDENT SCOPE FOR "SPECIAL" PROGRAMS

Continuing announcements from the major networks points to a year of outstanding special programs. Typical of the calibre is ABC's statement that for its October 16 "1492" backward look at Columbus, Ferdinand, Isabella and for good measure - Da Vinci and Michelangelo, "nothing is a stage prop; viewers will see the original documents, ride the same roads, sit at the same tables." To get this authenticity, camera crews have often had to travel on burros and horseback in remote places of Spain and Italy. "1492" will be the first of a four-part series titled "Saga of Western Man."

On October 1 all 16 astronauts will participate in NBC's "Apollo - the Lunar Mission," described as a comprehensive report on the manned moon-mission the United States expects to launch before 1970.

per course, exclusiv of th cost of books. Full registration information can be obtained by writing: Washington Square College, New York University, New York 3, N. Y.

The title "Sunrise Semester" in some cases will be a misnomer this year since many stations will present it at later hours.

The four courses planned for presentation on CBS are "Introduction to Ethics," with Dr. Sidney Hook, professor of philosophy at NYC, as teacher, "Outlines of the History of Art: Prehistoric to Renaissance" with Dr. Jane Costello, associate professor of fine arts, as teacher) she will also teach Renaissance to the Present); and "The Legacy of Greece and Rome," with Dr. Lionel Casson, professor of classics.

ANNUAL TV "MUSICAL

The "September Song" as the major networks do it is younger than springtime. Everything's new including a percentage of the programs; it's Danny Kaye, for example at CBS later this month; Inger Stevens over at ABC as an and James Franciscus teaching high school as "Mr. Novak" at NBC, plus many, many more.

The first faint rumblings of change this week with NBC debuting its filmed-in-France saga of a song and dance man (Larry Blyden) and his dancing girls crew, Called "Harry's Girls" it bows Friday the 13th at 9:30.

This is the season not to count on instinct to get you tuned to the right program at the right time. Keep that schedule tied to the set. You like Dr. Casey? Fine, he'll be around . . . but after the next two weeks, not on Monday. And this is easier to keep track of than most for the invincible Vincent in a two-part breaker-iner will introduce the Monday night successor program "Breaking Point" which will major in psychiatry, not neuro - surgery. Look for Dr. Casey by the end of the month on Wednesdays at 9 p.m. ("Breaking Point" will be starring Paul Richards and Eduard Franz.)

ABC is debuting all its fall shows in one premiere week, September 15, CBS is planning a sort of opening night gala of its own Monday the 23rd with its major comedy stars, Lucille Ball, Danny Thomas, Jack Benny, all on deck.

When the dust settles will be found on new days: "Adventure of Ozzie and Harriet," Wednesday; "The Flintstones," Thursday; "Sunset Strip" remains a Friday show but it's moved all the way up to 7:30 effective September 20.
